

MARKETPLACE MINISTRIES

Of The Christian and Missionary Alliance

Our Vision:

Our vision is to embody the love of Jesus through the work of our hands and the truth of our speech. This reality will reveal itself through relationships developed within the professional marketplace.

Our Mission:

Our mission is to assist and enable the professional who is called to serve Jesus internationally through their vocation.

Who we are:

Marketplace ministries is an association of C&MA lay professionals secularly employed in international cross-cultural situations. The primary motivation and ministry is to make disciples and establish them in the local church where permissible, with emphasis on restricted or potentially restricted-access.

PRIMARY OBJECTIVES:

- * Utilize Alliance lay professionals to the fullest extent for worldwide evangelization and discipleship in areas deemed strategic to Alliance ministries.
- * Challenge North American C&MA members and adherents to consider overseas secular assignments for the express purpose of being effective witnesses for Christ.
- * Identify and guide potential participants through their preparation and training in anticipation of their service overseas.
- * Facilitate overseas work opportunities in countries of strategic interest to the C&MA, directing individuals to organizations appropriate to their professional skills and call.
- * Provide or insure pastoral care, where possible, for marketplace ministries members.
- * Provide an accountability structure, requiring periodic reporting from, and evaluation of, the member.
- * Provide for mutual fellowship among members of marketplace ministries for purposes of encouragement and interaction before, during, and after their overseas assignment.
- * Give opportunity for the C&MA constituency to support the marketplace ministries strategy.

Requirements for application to mm

- * Preferred: Secularly employed in an overseas country.
- * Acceptable: Vocational experience and education that could be used in an overseas country to obtain secular employment

FAQs

1. How is an mm international worker supported financially?

They are responsible for providing their own financial support. There are three primary ways our members receive financial support.

- a. Have a job internationally that provides a living wage. For example you teach in an international school that pays a living wage.
- b. Raise support through your church or other churches, friends, and family
- c. A combination of a and b

(Please note that any funds contributed by the marketplace ministries office toward grants and medical insurance premiums are considered taxable income and will be included in the 1099-misc totals issued for the tax year. Support monies received through the Christian and Missionary Alliance are also part of the 1099-misc taxable income.)

2. What benefits are there in joining mm?

a. Tentmaker status (full member status)

- Subsidized health insurance
- Language grants when available
- Assistance in attending the most appropriate field forum in a region
- C&MA rates for use of Alliance Guest Homes and services provided by C&MA business office
- Use of C&MA MK schools, with room, board, and classroom costs at C&MA missionary rates. In cases where educational costs are provided by the employer, business rates will apply for tuition, room, board, and classroom costs.
